

Governor's Proclamation

WYOMING DAY

WHEREAS, in 1868 Wyoming became an official U.S. territory, and twenty-two years later it was granted statehood; and

WHEREAS, on December 10, 1869, Territorial Governor John Campbell signed a bill recognizing women's right of suffrage; and

WHEREAS, the Women's Suffrage Act was the first law of its kind, making Wyoming the first government in the nation to recognize women's right to vote; and

WHEREAS, to commemorate the passage of the Act, in 1935, the Wyoming State Legislature passed a bill recognizing the 10th day of December as Wyoming Day; and

WHEREAS, Wyoming's industrious, ambitious and neighborly people have always made our communities, state and nation stronger and more prosperous; and

WHEREAS, Wyoming is home to many monuments, historical sites, and millions of acres of public lands; and

WHEREAS, whether you are opening a business, raising a family, attending school, or exploring the great outdoors, there is no place better than Wyoming; and

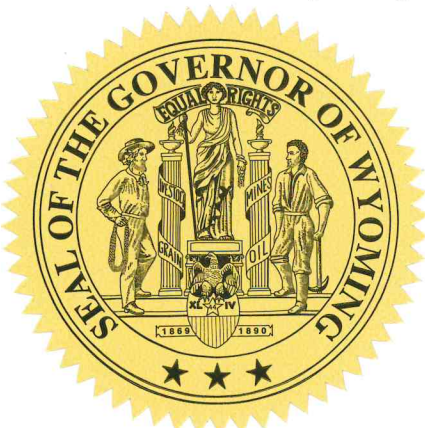

WHEREAS, annually on December 10, we commemorate the history of the territory and the state and the lives of its pioneers.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, MARK GORDON, Governor of the State of Wyoming, do hereby proclaim December 10, 2022, as

and I invite my fellow Wyomingites to participate in this observance by engaging in appropriate activities; learning about Wyoming's unique history; exploring the natural wonders of the Cowboy State and experiencing the spirit of the West.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Executive Seal of the Governor of Wyoming to be affixed this 8th day of December, 2022.

The Honorable Mark Gordon
33rd Governor of the Great State of Wyoming
